RICHARD H. EVANS

President and Chief Executive Officer Madison Square Garden Corporation

Richard H. Evans, president and chief executive officer of Madison Square Garden Corporation, directs all business segments of the organization. Shortly after assuming responsibility for the overall operations of the Corporation, he launched a comprehensive reorganization to strengthen and open new markets in the sports, entertainment and communications fields.

Four operating groups form the foundation of this revitalization: MSG Facilities Development and Management Group, which is responsible for the operations of Madison Square Garden Center and the development of the new Madison Square Garden which is currently being planned; MSG Communications Group, which consists of the Madison Square Garden Television Network, Madison Square Garden Radio, Madison Square Garden Home Video and Madison Square Garden Boxing; MSG Entertainment Group, comprised of Madison Square Garden Enterprises, which produces, co-produces and packages sports and entertainment events in the Garden and elsewhere, and Madison Square Garden Television Productions, a Los Angeles-based television production company which owns and produces the Miss Universe, Miss USA and Miss Teen USA beauty pageants and is also involved in the development of other television properties; MSG Sports Group, which includes the New York Knickerbockers basketball franchise and the New York Rangers hockey franchise.

These groups are designed to maximize the use, efficiency and profitability of the Garden and to expand the production and packaging of entertainment events for presentation at the Garden and around the world.

Before joining the Garden, Mr. Evans was chairman, president and chief executive officer of Radio City Music Hall Productions, a Rockefeller Group Company. Under his direction, Radio City made significant profits in 1985 and again in 1986—the first profits in more than 30 years.

Mr. Evans has extensive background in the leisure recreation industry and his experience has included all facets of planning, management and operations. He was founder and president of Leisure General Corporation of Atlanta, a firm which specialized in the development and management of leisure/recreation entities, and was vice president and principal of Xcalibur Corporation of Atlanta, a firm which specialized in crisis management.

He also held senior management positions with Mattel Corporation's Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, the Marriott Corporation, and Walt Disney Productions, where he was actively involved in the initial master planning, development and construction of Walt Disney World and subsequently responsible for the operation of the resort division at Walt Disney World.

As president of both the New York Knickerbockers and the New York Rangers, Mr. Evans serves on the board of governors of the National Basketball Association and National Hockey League. He is a trustee of the University of Denver, chairman of the New York chapter of the Young Presidents' Organization, co-chairman of the Arts & Entertainment Advisory Board of the New York City Partnership, director of the New York Convention and Visitors Bureau and a member of its executive committee, director of the National Committee for the Prevention of Child Abuse and co-chairman of its National Awareness Committee.

Mr. Evans received a bachelor's degree in business management from the University of Denver in June of 1966.

He, his wife Carla and their children currently reside in Connecticut.

Madison Square Garden Corporation is part of the entertainment operations of Gulf+Western Inc.

JOHN C. DILLER

Executive Vice President
MSG Sports Group

Jack Diller is head of the MSG Sports Group, which is comprised of the New York Rangers professional hockey team and the New York Knickerbockers professional basketball team. He is responsible for the operations of both teams and represents both as an alternate governor with the National Hockey League and the National Basketball Association.

In addition, Jack's wide range of responsibilities include coordinating the Rangers' operations with the other operating groups within Madison Square Garden.

Diller initially was associated with the Rangers from 1969 to 1974 as vice president, legal and business affairs, working closely with long-term Ranger President William M. Jennings.

A highly regarded executive with an extensive background in sports management, law, marketing and communications, Diller first returned to Madison Square Garden Corporation in April of 1987 prior to the creation of the Sports Group, as senior vice president, administration.

Diller's wide-ranging background also includes a one-year term as president of the New York State Sports Authority. Thereafter he operated his own management consulting and business advisory practice specializing in new electronic media and sports operations with corporate clients throughout the country.

From 1979-84, he was with RCTV, a nationally distributed cable television program service developed by the Rockefeller Group and RCA, where he served as executive vice president and chief operating officer.

Before returning to the Garden, Diller was senior marketing executive of the Men's International Professional Tennis Council and was executive vice president of COVIDEA, a videotex information system.

The formation of the MSG Sports Group in July of 1987 afforded Jack the opportunity to couple his early hockey experience with his business and administrative talents in leading the continued development of the Ranger franchise and organization.

A graduate of Georgetown University and Yale Law School, Diller began his career with Simpson Thacher & Bartlett in the general practice of corporate and anti-trust law before coming to the Garden in 1969.

Jack and his wife, Holly, have three daughters, Raegen, 16, Corey, 13, and one year old Mary Clare. They reside in New York City.

PHIL ESPOSITO

Vice President and General Manager

On July 14, 1986, the New York Rangers appointed Phil Esposito as vice president and general manager, only the eighth man to hold that post in the 63-year history of the team and a move that signaled many new things to come. Few general managers have overhauled a hockey organization as thoroughly and quickly as Esposito, as he demonstrated the work ethic that carried over from his days on the ice. He met his challenges head on, making a series of trades and other personnel moves that produced a young, aggressive team that played with relentless enthusiasm.

Statistics can hardly do justice in the case of Phil Esposito as an active player. There is too much to tell: eight All-Star team selections, six of them to the first team; a pair of Hart Trophies as the NHL's Most Valuable Player; no less than five Ross Trophies as NHL scoring champion, including four in a row from 1971 to 1974; the Lester Patrick Award for contributions to hockey in the United States in 1978; and, ultimately, election to the Hockey Hall of Fame in 1984.

He started his career with the Chicago Blackhawks in 1963-64 before being traded to the Boston Bruins after four years. In eight seasons with the Bruins, he helped propel them to Stanley Cup championships in 1970 and 1972. Phil was dealt to the Rangers in November, 1975, leading the team in scoring in each of his four full seasons before retiring as a player in January of 1981. He joined Madison Square Garden Network as a television commentator in the fall of 1981 and worked in that capacity until accepting his current position.

His 717 career goals in 1,282 regular-season games are third only to Gordie Howe (801) and Marcel Dionne (724), and his 1,590 points also rank him third on the all-time list. In addition, he added 61 goals and 76 assists for 137 points in 130 lifetime playoff games. Phil became the first player in NHL history to score 100 points in a single season during the 1968-69 campaign with 49 goals and 77 assists for 126 points, and two seasons later set single season standards of 76 goals and 152 points, which stood for over a decade until surpassed by Wayne Gretzky.

Phil and his wife Donna reside in Bedford, New York. Phil has three daughters, Laurie, Carrie, and Cherise.

JOE BUCCHINO

Assistant to the General Manager

Entering his 11th season overall with the Rangers, Joe now begins his third season in his current position as assistant to general manager, Phil Esposito. His responsibilities include assisting Esposito in running every aspect of the hockey club.

Joe works with Esposito on contract negotiations, player trades, and the day-to-day operations of the Rangers from the players on the ice to administrative matters. In addition, he oversees the scouting staff and handles special scouting assignments.

This season Joe expanded his horizons by evaluating players in the American Hockey League, the International Hockey League, the Ontario Hockey League, the Western Hockey League, the Quebec Hockey League and most of the major colleges.

The native of Boston, Massachusetts, got his start as a trainer with the Boston Bruins in 1974, before moving to New York as an assistant trainer in 1978. From there, Joe moved up the ladder step by step. After two seasons as assistant trainer he was promoted to head trainer in 1980. It only took one year in that capacity before he was moved up to the front office in 1981 as staff assistant.

Then, in 1983, Bucchino progressed even further when he was named administrative assistant. After two years in that job he became the Rangers' manager of team operations.

As manager of team operations, he was responsible for making the team's complex travel arrangements, setting up training camp, wearing the head sets behind the Rangers' bench during games and traveling with the team on a full-time basis. In addition, he supervised the entire operation of the Rangers' new practice facility at Rye Playland.

Joe was also responsible for putting a brand new satellite system into the Rangers practice facility, allowing the coaching staff to scout upcoming opponents by television when time restrictions do not allow them to see a game in person.

Joe's hard work and enthusiasm really paid off when he was named to his current position, assistant to the general manager, shortly after Esposito was tabbed as Rangers' general manager in July of 1986.

"Loyalty and dedication is not something that you can learn," said Espo. "Joe is a person that I rely on a great deal and there is no way I can do my job without him. He rarely gets the credit he deserves, but he does a tremendous job."

Joe is very interested in broadcasting and he can be heard on WVIP radio in Mount Kisco, New York, where he hosts a weekly sports talk show. In addition, he is the color commentator on selected Fox-Lane High School football games.

Joe and his wife Iris live in Pleasantville with their four-year-old son, Andrew Joseph and their newest addition, Michael John, born in June.

The Bucchinos are very involved in numerous charities, including the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect, the Big Brothers Association and Easter Seals.

MICHEL BERGERON

Head Coach

Michel Bergeron's impact on the Rangers was tremendously evident last season, his first behind the Rangers' bench following seven highly-successful campaigns as coach of the Quebec Nordiques. Bergeron led the Rangers to an 82-point campaign, the team's best showing since 1983-84.

In one season, Bergeron put his personal stamp on a team that quickly developed a strong work ethic and an all-out playing attitude.

The statistics spoke volumes of Bergeron's influence on the Rangers. The team allowed 40 fewer goals than the previous season; improved its plus-minus differential from minus-16 in 1986-87 to plus-17 in 1987-88; and set an all-time National Hockey League record by scoring 111 power play goals.

Bergeron was selected as the 23rd head coach in Rangers' history by general manager Phil Esposito on June 18, 1987 after his stay with the Nordiques. Under Bergeron, the Nordiques qualified for the Stanley Cup Playoffs in each of his seven seasons as coach, and the club twice made it to the championship finals of the Prince of Wales Conference. Quebec recorded 90 points or better for three consecutive seasons, 1983-84 through 1985-86.

With 634 games coached entering the current season, Bergeron is second only to Edmonton's Glen Sather in seniority among coaches in the NHL. His winning percentage after eight NHL seasons stands at .526 and his teams have a cumulative mark of 33 games above the .500 mark.

Bright, expressive, and extremely sharp when it comes to strategy, Bergeron is well respected as a motivator and an excellent judge of talent. Bergeron's candor and high-profile style made him easily the most popular sports figure in Quebec City while coaching the Nordiques.

Bergeron's first NHL experience was as an assistant coach under Maurice Filion in 1980-81. Only two weeks into the season, he was promoted to head coach, leading the team to a 29-29-16 record and a spot in the playoffs. His best season with the Nordiques was 1983-84, gaining 94 points on 42 victories and 10 ties. Two seasons later ('85-'86), Quebec attained 43 wins and 92 points.

Bergeron was raised in the Rosemont section of Montreal, and began his coaching career there with a local midget team. It was in Trois-Rivieres of the Quebec Junior Hockey League that he really proved himself as a head coach leading Les Draveurs from the cellar to three league championships, twice taking part in the Memorial Cup Tournament. He also coached the league All-Star team on two occasions.

Bergeron and his wife, Michéle, live in Mamaroneck, New York with their four children, daughters Sophie (18); Anick (15); and Karine (9); and son Francis (17).

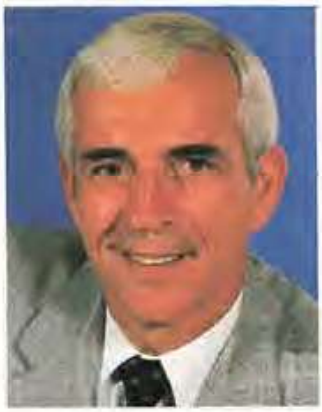
Rangers Assistant Coaches

WAYNE CASHMAN

"Cash" enters his second full season as a Rangers assistant coach, helping coach Michel Bergeron with the on-ice preparation of the team . . . Began with the Rangers in August of 1987 as a New England area scout and remained in that capacity until November when he was named an assistant coach . . . Has the same work ethic and enthusiasm as a coach that he had in his 16 playing years with the Boston Bruins . . . A native of Kingston, Ontario, he played with the Bruins from 1964-65 until 1982-83 and was Boston's captain from 1977-78 until his retirement following the 1982-83 season . . . Second on the Bruins' all-time list for games played (1,027), fifth in goals (277) and points (793) and fourth in career assists (516) . . . Helped Boston to two Stanley Cup championships, 1969-70 and 1971-72 . . . Appeared in 145 playoff games, most in Bruins' history . . . Owns a horse breeding operation in Allentown, Pennsylvania . . . Married: wife, Lyn; two children, Scott and Becky.



ED GIACOMIN

Ed begins his third season working with all of the goaltenders in the Rangers' system . . . Spends considerable time working with veterans John Vanbiesbrouck and Bob Froese on refining techniques . . . Also helps goalies Ron Scott and Mike Richter, who played at Colorado last season . . . Will also scout upcoming opponents on occasion . . . The native of Sudbury, Ontario, played for the Rangers from 1965-66 to 1975-76 . . . Holds the Ranger record for most shutouts in a career with 50 (49 in the regular season and one in the playoffs) . . . Following his career in New York, he played two more seasons with the Detroit Red Wings, retiring in December of 1977 . . . A veteran of 610 NHL games, he finished with a record of 289 wins, 206 losses and 97 ties with a 2.82 goals-against average . . . LEFT WING – 22

PAUL CYR

Born: Oct. 31, 1963 Port Alberni, British Columbia
Off-Season Home: Getzville, New York

1987-88: Obtained from the Buffalo Sabres on Dec. 31, he made his Ranger debut that evening, contributing several hard hits while recording an assist in New York's 6-1 rout of the Quebec Nordiques . . . First goal in a Ranger uniform came in his next home outing (Jan. 4) when his power play score at 11:22 of the first period gave the Rangers a 2-1 lead on the way to a 6-2 triumph over the St. Louis Blues . . . Tallied one goal and five assists in his first seven games with the Rangers . . . Notched a shorthanded goal on April 1 at Winnipeg . . . Appeared in 40 of New York's final 43 outings . . . Spent considerable time on the team's penalty killing unit . . . Usually a left wing, he filled in at center for six games (Mar. 12-Mar. 22) when Lucien DeBlois was sidelined with a knee injury . . . Only goal in his 20 contests with the Sabres was a shorthanded score in Chicago on Dec. 9 and it proved to be the game-winner as the Sabres defeated the Blackhawks by a 6-2 score . . . Missed 13 games from Oct. 17 thru Nov. 18 with a strained knee.

NHL CAREER: Made his NHL debut in the Sabres' 1982 season opener and it took just 11:40 to score his first goal when he tallied against Dan Bouchard . . . Another memorable night in his rookie season was on March 3 when he collected his only career hat trick potting all three goals in Buffalo's 3-2 victory at Boston . . . Finished the season scoring 23 points (13 goals, 10 assists) in Buffalo's final 25 games . . . Spent part of the campaign (20 games) in junior hockey . . . Appeared in at least 70 matches each of the next four seasons with Sabres collecting back-to-back 20-goal years in '84-85 and '85-86 . . . Best point production was the 51 he amassed in 1985-86 . . . Offensive totals declined the following season to 11 goals and 27 points as he was used mostly on the Sabres' top checking line and extensively as a penalty killer . . . 17 of his 27 points that season came on the road . . . Best career goal scoring has come against Boston (15), Hartford (11) and Quebec (8).

JUNIOR CAREER: Played two full seasons with Victoria of the WHL helping the Cougars to a cumulative record of 103-39-2 in 1980-81 and 1981-82 . . . Improved his offensive totals from 59 points (36 goals) in his first season to 108 (52 goals) in his second junior campaign . . . Selected as a second team WHL All-Star in 1981-82 . . . Played for Team Canada in the 1981-82 and 1982-83 World Junior Championships.

BACKGROUND: Armed with a hard slap shot, he plays a hustling, grinding style . . . Suffered a broken ankle in August of 1986 playing in a charity softball game and missed training camp . . . Was shot in the abdomen while vacationing in the Dominican Republic in May of 1987, but recovered in plenty of time for the start of the season . . . Friendly, softspoken, and affable off the ice . . . Splits his off-season time between the Buffalo area and British Columbia . . . Married the former Cheryl Pera on July 29.

RIGHT WING – 9

ULF DAHLEN

6-2 196 Shoots Left
Born: Jan. 12, 1967 Ostersund, Sweden
Off-Season Home: Ostersund, Sweden

1987-88: Rookie NHL season started slowly as he was scratched for five of the Rangers' first seven games, but in his third, and the team's eighth game, Dahlen exploded for three goals in New York's 7-3 win over Chicago at the Garden . . . It proved to be the only hat trick recorded by a Ranger the entire season . . . Registered his first two assists the following night in the Rangers' 5-3 triumph in Philadelphia . . . Struggled over the next two months (and was even sent to Colorado for two games), but came alive with goals in five consecutive contests between Dec. 31 and Jan. 8, including a pair in a 6-2 victory over the Blues on Jan. 4 . . . Finished the first half of the season with 10 goals and five assists while playing in 30 of the Rangers' 40 games . . . Averaged almost a point a game while appearing in all 40 second half outings, mostly at right wing, collecting 19 goals and 18 assists for 37 points . . . 29 goals was the fourth highest total of any rookie in Rangers' history and ranked fourth among all NHL rookies in '87-88 . . . Also ranked fourth among all rookies in points (52), power play goals (11), and shots on goal (159) while registering a plus five rating . . . Tallied 17 of his 29 goals on Garden ice.

SWEDISH CAREER: Rangers' first round selection (seventh overall) in the 1985 Entry Draft, he was unable to join the Rangers until '87-88 season because of commitments to the Swedish National Team and the Swedish Army . . . Played his first two years with Ostersund jumping from 26 points in 1983-84 to a league leading total of 59 points (33 goals, 26 assists) the following season . . . Captained Sweden in the European Championships in April of 1985, winning the scoring title with seven goals while being selected as the tourney's best forward . . . Joined Bjorkloven in 1985-86 where he was used sparingly by his coach Tommy Sandlin since he was only 18 years-old . . . In 22 games he scored four goals and three assists . . . Played for Bjorkloven again in '86-87 notching nine goals and 12 assists in 37 games, while recording a plus 22 rating . . . Was used primarily in a defensive role and as a penalty killer by coach Hans Lindber . . . Had an excellent playoff collecting six goals in six games in helping to lead his team to the championship . . . Scored eight goals in the 1987 Junior World Championships, where he was named Most Valuable Player as Sweden won the tournament.

BACKGROUND: Puck-handling and strength are probably his greatest hockey assets, but his speed and ability to read plays are also formidable . . . Very likeable with an easy going personality and a terrific attitude . . . Stays around after Rangers' open practice sessions for as long as necessary to sign autographs for fans . . . Started skating at two years of age . . . Has a better understanding of the English language than most European players entering the NHL . . . Father is a bank manager and mother works for the telephone company . . . Rented a house last season with Jan Erixon . . . Single.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: June 15, 1985, Rangers' first round choice (seventh overall) in the 1985 Entry Draft.

CENTER – 23

LUCIEN DeBLOIS

5-11 204 Shoots Right
Born: June 21, 1957 Joliette, Quebec
Off-Season Home: Rye, New York

1987-88: Bounced back from an injury-filled 1986-87 season to play an important role with Rangers . . . After 11 seasons as a right wing, he really blossomed when Michel Bergeron placed him between Don Maloney and Jan Erixon to center the team's checking line early in the campaign . . . Collected his 400th NHL point on Nov. 3, his 200th NHL assist on Nov. 15, played in his 700th NHL game on Jan. 6, and notched his 100th point as a Ranger on Mar. 24 . . . Appeared in each of the team's first 56 contests before missing the Feb. 14th clash with a bruised buttock . . . Sidelined for five outings in March with a bruised right knee . . . Tallied 15 points in the first half of the season and 15 in the second half . . . Five of his nine goals came on the road, including four of the last five, while five of the nine were tying scores . . . Accumulated a career high 103 penalty minutes.

NHL CAREER: Rangers first selection (eighth overall) in the 1977 Amateur Draft, he had an excellent rookie season in '77-78 scoring 22 goals in 71 games . . . The following campaign, he collected 11 goals (all at even strength) and 17 assists in 62 games with New York and also had a brief stint (seven games) with New Haven of the AHL . . . Early in 1979-80 DeBlois was dealt to the Colorado Rockies in the Barry Beck trade . . . After spending two seasons with the Rockies, notching a total of 50 goals, he was traded to the Winnipeg Jets . . . Had his most productive season as a member of the Jets in 1983-84 when he finished second on the team in scoring with 34 goals and 45 assists for 79 points . . . Was traded once again in June of 1984, this time to the Montreal Canadiens in exchange for Perry Turnbull . . . Injuries limited his playing time to only 51 games in 1984-85 and 61 appearances in 1985-86, while scoring a total of 54 points in his two years with Montreal . . . Signed as a free agent by the Rangers in September of 1986, his playing time in his second stint with New York was once again curtailed by injuries, especially sprained left knee ligaments which sidelined him for 26 contests . . . Has 33 career power play goals, but only four of his 48 as a Ranger have come with a man advantage . . . Best career goal scoring has come against Toronto (16), Edmonton (15) and Los Angeles (15).

JUNIOR CAREER: Spent his entire junior career with Sorel of the Quebec Junior Hockey League and improved his point total each season from 65 to 99 to 111 to 134 in 1976-77 . . . First team QJHL All-Star in each of his last two junior campaigns recording 56 goals both years . . . Selected to play for Quebec Junior League All-Star Team against Soviet Union in 1975-76.

BACKGROUND: Strong skater and very difficult to knock off the puck . . . Has solid checking ability . . . Excellent penalty killer, willing to go into the corners and dig . . . Was a teammate of Pierre Larouche in junior hockey and played with Chris Nilan on the 1985-86 Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens . . . Served as team captain of the Winnipeg Jets in 1983-84 . . . CENTER – 16

MARCEL DIONNE

5-8 190 Shoots Right
Born: August 3, 1951 Drummondville, Quebec
Off-Season Home: Bedford, New York

1987-88: High scoring center playing his 17th National Hockey League season notched 31 goals, which ranked second on the Rangers . . . Of his 31 tallies, he led the club with a career high 22 power play goals . . . Became the second leading goal scorer in NHL history with the first of his two on Feb. 14 vs. the Islanders . . . Now has 724 goals in his career, seven more than Phil Esposito, trailing only Gordie Howe (801) . . . Reached three major milestones during the season: scored his 700th NHL goal on Oct. 31 against the Islanders; notched his 1,700 NHL point on Nov. 3 vs. Calgary and recorded his 1,000 career assist in Los Angeles on Nov. 7 . . . Began the season with five goals and four assists in his first five games . . . Missed 12 games due to an arthritic left knee.

NHL CAREER: Enters his 18th NHL season as the second all-time leading scorer, only 102 points away from Gordie Howe (1,850) . . . Is second in goals with 724, behind Howe (801) and third in career assists with 1,024 behind Wayne Gretzky (1,086) and Howe (1,049) . . . Won the Art Ross Trophy as the NHL's leading scorer when he tallied 137 points in 1979-80 . . . Twice has won the Lady Byng Trophy as the NHL's most gentlemanly player and was a first team All-Star selection in 1976-77 and 1979-80 . . . 28 lifetime hat tricks ties him with Bobby Hull for the fourth most in league history . . . Set NHL record for points by a rookie in 1971-72 (broken by Bryan Trottier in 1975-76) and established record for shorthanded goals (10) in single season, 1974-75 (broken by Gretzky in 1983-84) . . . On Jan. 7, 1981, he collected his 1,000 NHL point in his 740th NHL game, the fastest in history (since broken by Guy Lafleur and Gretzky) . . . Led Kings in scoring for eight consecutive seasons 1975-76 thru the 1982-83 campaign and is their all-time leading scorer with 1,307 points . . . Holds NHL record for 40-goal seasons with 10 . . . Selected as Kings' MVP on eight different occasions . . . Other accomplishments include two six-point games, three four-goal performances, and he has recorded five assists in a single contest twice . . . Drafted by the Red Wings in the first round, second overall (Lafleur was selected first) in 1971 . . . Averaged over 90 points per season in his four years with Detroit leading the team in scoring three of the four seasons . . . Signed as a free agent with Los Angeles on June 23, 1975.

JUNIOR CAREER: Spectacular three year career with the St. Catharines Black Hawks, included back-to-back scoring titles in 1969-70 (132 points) and 1970-71 (143 points) . . . Played in only 46 games in 1970-71, missing 14 contests with a broken collarbone . . . Selected as a second team Ontario Hockey Association All-Star in 1969-70 and a first team All-Star in 1970-71 . . . Was team captain during the 1970-71 campaign, highlighted by an incredible total of 64 points in 22 playoff outings.

BACKGROUND: Very busy off-season included many charitable appearances on behalf of the Rangers . . . Attended a Bowl-a-thon to benefit the Big Brothers/Big Sisters Foundation . . . Was a key-note speaker along with Bob Froese at the Navesink Country Club Awards Banquet . . . Played golf for the Newington Childrens Hospital and went to Mayor Ed Koch's press conference at City Hall to kick off the New York City Summer Games . . . Very cooperative, he never turns down a request from the media . . . The Dionne family took in Brian Leetch upon his arrival in New York . . . Has two brothers and five sisters . . . His youngest brother, Gilbert, who plays for the Niagara Falls Junior B team, was born in Marcel's rookie year . . . Married: wife, Carol; daughter, Lisa; sons, Garrett and Drew.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: June 10, 1971—Detroit's first round choice (second overall) in the 1971 Amateur Draft. June 23, 1975—Signed as a free agent with Los Angeles. As compensation, Terry Harper, Dan Maloney and a 1976 second round draft pick were assigned to Detroit and Bart Crashley to Los Angeles. March 10, 1987—Traded by Los Angeles to Rangers along with Jeff Crossman and a 1989 third round draft choice for Bob Carpenter and Tom Laidlaw.

Born: July 8, 1962 Skelleftea, Sweden
Off-Season home: Skelleftea, Sweden

1987-88: Completed his fifth season with New York collecting seven goals and 19 assists while registering a plus three rating although he was usually matched against the other team's top gunners . . . Defensive contributions were finally rewarded as he was selected as one of three finalists for the Frank Selke Trophy which goes to the best defensive forward in the NHL . . . Guy Carbonneau and Steve Kasper were the other finalists with Carbonneau eventually winning the award . . . Linemates on the Rangers' top checking line for most of the season were Lucien DeBlois and Don Maloney . . . Erixon's first goal of the campaign came on a penalty shot on Oct. 24 in Philadelphia . . . His other six goals were all notched at the Garden . . . Recorded three two-assist games and collected a career high six shots on goal on two occasions, Dec. 16 vs. New Jersey and Mar. 30 in Chicago . . . Rangers were 5-0-2 in games Erixon tallied a goal . . . Missed a total of eight games due to injuries to his back and ribs.

NHL CAREER: Rangers second round selection in 1981 in one of the team's most successful drafts along with James Patrick, John Vanbiesbrouck and Peter Sundstrom . . . Played in Sweden for two more seasons before joining Rangers in 1983 . . . Tallied his first NHL goal in the third game of the season playing left wing on a line with Anders Hedberg and Mark Pavelich . . . Compiled the third best plus/minus rating on the team (+14) and the seventh best among rookie regulars in the NHL . . . Recorded two goals in five playoff outings against the Islanders, including the game-winner in third match of the series . . . Scored seven goals and 22 assists the following campaign with 21 of the 29 points coming on the road . . . A fractured left tibia limited his play to only 31 games in 1985-86 . . . Accumulated an NHL high eight goals in 1986-87 including a pair of two-goal performances, the first of his NHL career . . . Is a cumulative plus 21 after five seasons with New York . . . 15 of his 29 goals have come at the expense of Patrick Division teams . . . Has 14 career goals at the Garden and 15 on the road.

SWEDISH CAREER: The year he was drafted by the Rangers he was selected for the Swedish Junior National Team that captured the 1980-81 World Championship . . . Played four seasons with Skelleftea of the Swedish Hockey League with his best offensive production coming in 1982-83 when he tallied 10 goals and 18 assists for 28 points in 36 contests . . . Finished with career totals of 32 goals and 34 assists for 66 points in 130 tilts.

BACKGROUND: Has played all three forward positions throughout his professional career, both in Sweden and with the Rangers . . . Recognized as one of the most skilled penalty killers in the NHL . . . Strong in the corners, with good balance, very tough to knock off his feet . . . Military commitments kept him in Sweden for two years before joining Rangers . . . Has worn uniform number 20 during his entire NHL tenure . . . Spends his summers back home in his native country . . . Single.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: June 10, 1981— Rangers' second round choice (30th overall) in 1981 Entry Draft.

GOALTENDER – 33

BOB FROESE

5-11 178 Shoots Left
Born: June 30, 1958 St. Catharines, Ontario
Off-Season Home: Lake Clear, New York

1987-88: Starting goaltender in each of the Rangers' first five games posting a 2-1-2 record with a 3.48 average and a save percentage of .904 . . . Faced career high 46 shots in 6-2 victory at Hartford on Oct. 10, also picking up his lone assist of the campaign in the contest . . . Injured his right shoulder on Nov. 3 in Calgary and was sidelined for the next nine outings until returning on Nov. 29 and stopping 29 of 30 shots in a 3-1 triumph over the Islanders . . . Recorded back-to-back home ice victories over Montreal (3-1 on Feb. 15) and Calgary (5-3 on Feb. 17) . . . Finished the season by going 3-2-1 in his last six starts allowing a total of 19 goals . . . Was 5-6-2 in the first half of the season and 3-5-1 in the second and had a season's mark of 5-4-1 at the Garden and 3-7-2 on the road.

NHL CAREER: Originally an 11th round choice by St. Louis in the 1978 Amateur Draft, he was left unprotected in 1981 and claimed as a free agent by Philadelphia . . . Called up from the Maine Mariners of the American Hockey League in January of 1983, he went on to post a 12-0-1 mark in his first 13 NHL games, falling one contest short of tying an NHL record for consecutive games undefeated by a goalie at the start of his career . . . Registered a record of 28-13-7 in his first full NHL season the following year . . . Enjoyed a spectacular season in '85-86, winning the Jennings Trophy (along with Darren Jensen) for the best combined goals-against average in the NHL, 2.99 . . . Also led all goalies in average (2.55), save percentage (.909), and shutouts (five), while tying John Vanbiesbrouck with 31 victories . . . Had a record of 92-29-12 with 12 shutouts in his four-plus seasons with Philadelphia before being dealt to New York on Dec. 18, 1986.

IHL AND AHL CAREER: Played for three seasons in the International Hockey League, including the 1980-81 season when his goals-against average over 43 games was a remarkable 2.98, and his average for 13 playoff contests was 2.16 . . . Appeared in 33 games in 1981-82 and 1982-83 with Maine of the American Hockey League accumulating a record of 34-22-7 before his call-up by the Flyers.

BACKGROUND: Classic, stand-up type goalie . . . Has an excellent glove . . . Sense of humor helps breaks pressure of his position . . . Did not start playing ice hockey—he preferred lacrosse—until he was 12 . . . Wore uniform number 35 while with the Flyers . . . Did many charitable appearances on behalf of the club during the off-season . . . On April 27, he was a guest celebrity at "All Star Salute to Secretaries" luncheon to benefit the Hudson Valley Arthritis Foundation . . . On May 4, he was the key-note speaker along with Marcel Dionne at the Navesink Country Club's Annual Hockey Banquet . . . Also spoke to 100 eighth grade students at Intermediate School 2 in Staten Island in cooperation with Mayor Ed Koch's Athletes Against Drugs Program and was a guest speaker at the Richmond Roller Hockey Awards Dinner . . . Likes to spend time restoring old automobiles during the summer . . . Married: wife, Ruth; three sons, Robbie, David and James.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: June 15, 1978—St. Louis' 11th round choice (160th overall) in the 1978 Amateur Draft. June 18, 1981—Signed by Philadelphia as a free agent. Dec. 18, 1986—Traded by Philadelphia to Rangers for Kjell Samuelsson and a 1989 second round draft choice.

DEFENSE – 4

RON GRESCHNER

6-2 208 Shoots Left
Born: December 22, 1954 Goodsoil, Saskatchewan
Off-Season Home: New York, New York

1987-88: After playing most of the previous season at center, the 14-year Ranger veteran moved back to his natural defense position . . . Scored 589th career point with goal vs. Calgary on Nov. 3, moving him into fifth place on the Rangers all-time point scoring list . . . Has now played in 869 games, fourth most in Rangers history . . . Registered two assists in Rangers 6-6 tie vs. Pittsburgh on Oct. 15 . . . Three of five assists came on power play goals . . . Missed 17 games with various injuries.

CAREER: Selected by the Rangers in the second round of the 1974 Amateur Draft from New Westminster of the WCHL, he played only seven games with Providence of the AHL before making his debut with New York on Nov. 3, 1974 . . . Set Ranger record for assists (37) by a rookie defenseman (broken in 1981-82 by Reijo Ruotsalainen) . . . Became the highest scoring defenseman in Ranger history on Nov. 11, 1981 when his assist on Dave Silk's goal brought his career total to 379, one more than Brad Park accumulated as a Ranger . . . Shoulder separations sidelined him for parts of '78-'79 and '84-'85 and back miseries cost him considerable playing time in '81-'82 and '82-'83 campaigns . . . In his 14 years with the Rangers, he has 177 goals (tied for 13th on the all-time list), 412 assists (fifth on the all-time list) and 1079 penalty minutes (third on the all-time list) . . . Of his 177 career goals, 51 have been on the power play, 19 have been game-winners and six have been shorthanded, while 85 have been scored at the Garden and 92 have come on the road . . . Best career goal scoring has come against the Islanders (19) and Vancouver (15) . . . Only hat trick of his career was on Mar. 22, 1978 at St. Louis against goaltender Phil Myre . . . Selected for the 1979 All-Star team . . . Scored on a penalty shot, Oct. 28, 1980 against goaltender Mike Liut of the St Louis Blues . . . Served as team captain from October 9, 1986 to December 3, 1987.

JUNIOR CAREER: Scored 56 goals and 126 assists for 182 points in 179 games in his three years at New Westminster of the Western Hockey League . . . In 1973-74, his last year with the Bruins, he became the team captain, while setting a WHL record for most points by a defenseman in one season, 103, breaking the record of former Ranger Larry Sacharuk . . . Was also selected to the All-Star team that season.

BACKGROUND: Traveled to Japan in May to serve as a judge of the Miss Universe contest . . . Spent most of the summer relaxing at farm house in upstate New York which he has spent the last few years refurbishing . . . Despite busy schedule, always makes himself available for charitable appearances . . . Is very cooperative with members of the media . . . "Gresch" has never lost enthusiasm for the game . . . Was presented with a humanitarian award from Muscular Dystrophy on August 31 at Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

JASON LAFRENIERE

5-11 185 Shoots Right
Born: December 6, 1966 St. Catharines, Ontario
Off-Season Home: North Bay, Ontario

1987-88: Second NHL campaign got off to a fast start as he tallied a pair of goals, including the game-winner, and one assist in opening night 5-1 victory at Hartford . . . Registered two assists as the Nordiques rallied with five third period goals to defeat Montreal, 5-2, on Oct. 12 . . . Notched two power play goals in less than five minutes in 8-7 loss at Los Angeles on Nov. 14 and produced another two-goal effort in 5-4 win at Toronto on Jan. 21 . . . His first five goals all came on the road and five of his 10 goals were accumulated on the power play . . . Had two stints with Fredericton of the AHL, from Dec. 1 thru Jan. 4 and from March 4 until the end of the regular season.

NHL CAREER: Nordiques second selection in 1985 Entry Draft . . . Impressive training camp earned him a spot in opening night lineup against Detroit on Oct. 9, 1986 . . . First three NHL points were all recorded in his third contest with Quebec, two goals and one assist, including the game winner, in 7-1 victory at Vancouver . . . His first four NHL goals were scored on the road . . . Finished his rookie season with 13 goals and 15 assists in 56 outings . . . Missed considerable time in midseason when he came down with mononucleosis . . . Seven of his 13 goals were power play scores and his 23.6 shooting percentage ranked second best on the Nordiques . . . Best career scoring has come at the expense of the Canadiens with six goals and three assists in 10 games and 21 of his 57 NHL points have been collected vs. Adams Division opponents.

AHL CAREER: Spent parts of his first two professional seasons with Fredericton of the AHL . . . Was sent to the Express for conditioning purposes in 1986-87 appearing in a total of 11 games . . . Last season, he played in 32 matches for Fredericton notching 12 goals and 19 assists for 31 points.

JUNIOR CAREER: Played with three different teams during his junior career starting with the Brantford Alexanders in 1983-84 where he finished second on the team in scoring with 81 points in 70 games . . . Among his teammates that season were Bob Probert, Shayne Corson and Allan Bester . . . Spent the entire '84-85 campaign with the Hamilton Steelhawks improving his offensive totals to 95 points in 59 matches, while adding 28 points in 17 playoff games . . . In November of 1985, he was traded by Hamilton to Belleville in a six-player transaction . . . Enjoyed a tremendous season as he finished second among all OHL players with 131 points in 62 outings, while leading the league during the playoffs with 10 goals and 22 assists for 32 points in 23 contests as the Bulls reached the final round.

BACKGROUND: Considered to be a playmaking center rather than a goal scorer . . . Has excellent hockey sense on the ice and a wrist shot that suprises most goaltenders . . . Friendly, outgoing personality . . . Worked at several hockey camps during the summer . . . Enjoys golf and tennis during the off-season . . . Won the William Hanley Trophy (Most Gentlemanly OHL Player) in 1985-86 . . . Son of Roger Lafreniere who played in the NHL with Detroit ('62-63) and St. Louis ('72-73) . . . Wore uniform number 15 his first season with Quebec and 10 last year . . . Single.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: June 15, 1985—Quebec's second round choice (36th overall) in 1985 Entry Draft. Aug. 1, 1988—Traded by Quebec with Normand Rochefort to Rangers for Jari Gronstrand, Walt Poddubny, Bruce Bell and a 1989 fourth round draft choice.

RIGHT WING – 19

BRIAN MULLEN

5-10 180 Shoots Left
Born: March 16, 1962 New York, New York
Off-Season Home: Mamaroneck, New York

1987-88: First goals as a Ranger were a pair of power play scores in 6-6 stalemate in Pittsburgh on Oct. 15 . . . Thrived when switched to right wing, a substantial adjustment for a player who had spent almost his entire career on the left side . . . Collected seven goals and five assists in eight games from Nov. 15 thru Dec. 5 when placed on the right side of Kelly Kisio and John Ogrodnick . . . Put together another hot stretch from Dec. 14 thru Dec. 26, accumulating three goals and five assists in six outings . . . Appeared in his 400th NHL game on Dec. 14 and recorded his 200th career assist on April 1 . . . Finished the campaign with 25 goals, six more than he tallied with Winnipeg in 1986-87, and the fifth highest total on the Rangers . . . 10 power play goals also ranked fifth on the team and his four game-winners tied him for second in that department . . . Opened New York's scoring on 10 occasions placing him second to Walt Poddubny (11) . . . Had three three-point efforts, three two-goal performances, while notching 14 of his 25 goals on the road.

NHL CAREER: Selected on the seventh round by Winnipeg in 1980 becoming the first New York City player drafted directly from a local New York team . . . Spent the '79-80 season with the New Jersey Rockets of the Metropolitan Junior Hockey Association after playing the previous five years with the New York Westsiders . . . Appeared in all 80 games in his rookie season ('82-83) with Winnipeg scoring 24 goals and leading the team with a plus 11 rating . . . Averaged 59 points per season in his five years with the Jets enjoying four seasons of 21 goals or better, hitting a career high of 32 goals and 71 points in 1984-85 . . . Played primarily with center Dale Hawerchuk during his tenure in Winnipeg . . . Only career hat trick was collected against Doug Soetaert of Montreal on March 19, 1986 . . . 49 of his 149 career goals have come on the power play.

COLLEGE CAREER: Developed into an NHL candidate during his two years ('80-81 and '81-82) at the University of Wisconsin under Bob Johnson . . . Despite being hampered by injuries he was chosen as his team's rookie of the year and was instrumental in leading the Badgers to the NCAA Championship contributing 11 goals and 13 assists in 38 games . . . As a sophomore, Mullen once again was a pivotal member in Wisconsin's drive to repeat as national champs . . . In addition to his 19 goals and 16 assists, he anchored the specialty teams netting four goals on the power play and five while his team played shorthanded . . . Wound up as the fifth leading scorer throughout the NCAA Championships as the Badgers lost to the University of North Dakota in the final game.

BACKGROUND: First hockey experience took place on roller skates while living in the Hell's Kitchen area of Manhattan . . . As a teen-ager, he worked as a stickboy with the Rangers where his father, Tom, worked on the Madison Square Garden maintenance crew until his retirement three years ago . . . Older brother Joey is with the Calgary Flames . . . Was a science major at Wisconsin . . . Twice selected to attend the U.S. National Sports Festival while in college . . . Has worn uniform number 19 throughout his NHL career and in college . . . Spent most of the past summer in the New York area playing golf and suiting up with the MSG softball team . . . Played golf this summer to benefit the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation and the Newington Childrens Hospital . . . Attended Governor Mario Cuomo's press conference to promote social harmony in N.Y. State on July 14 . . . Was a special guest on the Nickelodeon cable show "Just Don't Sit There" in August . . . Married: wife, Linda; daughter, Nicole.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: June 11, 1980—Winnipeg's seventh round choice (128th overall) in 1980 Entry Draft. June 8, 1987—Traded by Winnipeg to Rangers with a 1987 10th round draft choice (Brett Barnett) for a fifth round draft pick in 1988 (Benoit Lebeau) and a third round pick in 1989.

1987-88: Became a Ranger on Jan. 20 when he was acquired from the Los Angeles Kings for Mike Siltala and Gord Walker . . . Appeared in his initial contest for New York two nights later in Vancouver . . . Played left wing on a line with Walt Poddubny and Ulf Dahlen and connected for one goal and two assists in the Rangers' 6-3 victory over the Canucks . . . His first point was an assist on Ulf Dahlen's goal at the 13:04 mark of the second period, while his goal was tallied at 11:16 of the third stanza . . . Suffered a fractured bone under his right eye in an altercation with the Islanders Gerald Diduck on Feb. 2 which curtailed his playing time and limited his effectiveness for several weeks after . . . Only goal in 32 games with the Kings was on Oct. 30 in Buffalo . . . Was sidelined for eight games in late November and early December with a pulled groin muscle returning on Dec. 3 with a two-assist effort against Winnipeg.

NHL CAREER: Split his first four NHL seasons between the Detroit Red Wings and Adirondack of the AHL . . . Made his NHL debut on Jan. 10, 1981 against the Calgary Flames in Detroit and tallied his first goal on Feb. 6, 1981 against Don Edwards in Buffalo . . . Divided the season almost right down the middle, 38 contests in the NHL and 39 in the AHL . . . Appeared in only three NHL games the following year, but played in a total of 74 games the next two seasons with Detroit . . . Led the Red Wings in penalty minutes in 1983-84 with 148 in 41 matches . . . Early in the '84-85 campaign, he was dealt to Philadelphia along with Murray Craven for Darryl Sittler . . . Called up from Hershey late in the season he played in six regular-season matches and 17 playoff contests in helping the Flyers reach the Stanley Cup Finals . . . Notched three goals and three assists in the Wales Conference Championship series against Quebec . . . Was sent from Philadelphia to Los Angeles for a second round draft choice on Dec. 18, 1985 . . . Played on a line with Marcel Dionne and Dave Taylor upon his arrival with the Kings and he responded with 27 points in his first 30 games.

AHL CAREER: Spent parts of four seasons with Adirondack from '80-81 thru '83-84 collecting a total of 121 points in 169 games over the four years . . . In 1981-82 he finished fourth on the team in scoring wth 22 goals and 28 points for 50 points in 74 games and in '83-84, he was Adirondack's leading scorer with 25 points (10 goals, 15 assists) in 20 outings before the call-up by Detroit on Nov. 26 . . . Appeared in 67 games for the Flyers' affiliate in Hershey in '84-85 where he tied for the team scoring lead with 26 goals and 27 assists for 53 points while leading the Bears in penalty minutes with 173.

JUNIOR CAREER: Played his entire junior career with the London Knights of the OHA improving from 33 points in his rookie season ('77-78) to 71 in his third and last campaign ('79-80) . . . Accumulated a total of 414 penalty minutes in 193 contests in his three seasons.

BACKGROUND: Very aggressive player, he is not adverse to mixing it up or going into the corners to dig out the puck . . . Was a teammate of John Ogrodnick and Kelly Kisio while with the Red Wings, Bob Froese when he was with the Flyers, and Marcel Dionne when he was a member of the Kings . . . Wore uniform number 24 with Detroit, 28 with Philadelphia, and 27 while with Los Angeles . . . Enjoys scuba diving, hiking, and fishing during the summer . . . Filmed an episode during the off-season of 1987 for "Who's The Boss" with Tony Danza . . . Single.

MICHEL PETIT

6-1 205 Shoots Right
Born: February 12, 1964 St. Malo, Quebec
Off-Season Home: Vancouver, British Columbia

1987-88: Made his Ranger debut on Nov. 7 in Los Angeles after being obtained from the Vancouver Canucks for Willie Huber and Larry Melnyk on Nov. 4 . . . Went on to play in 64 of the Rangers final 65 games, missing only the Jan. 2 game in Minnesota due to a pulled groin . . . His play really came alive late in the season when the Rangers lost defensemen James Patrick and Norm Maciver to injuries . . . Registered his first point as a Ranger when he assisted on a goal by Lucien DeBlois in his Madison Square Garden debut on Nov. 10 against New Jersey . . . Scored at least one point in seven of his last nine games . . . 25 penalty minutes on Mar. 8 vs. the Devils was a Ranger season high and 223 penalty minutes with New York for the season was the second most in team history topped only by Barry Beck's 231 penalty minutes in 1980-81 . . . Six of his nine goals and 22 of his 33 points as a Ranger were scored at the Garden . . . Total of 27 assists and 36 points were both career highs . . . Three of his nine goals were game-winners . . . Notched three assists in 10 games with Vancouver before joining the Rangers.

NHL CAREER: First player selected from the Quebec Hockey League in the 1982 Entry Draft, as the Canucks tabbed him their number one selection, 11th overall, from the St. Jean Beavers . . . First NHL contest was on Feb. 25, 1983 against the Toronto Maple Leafs, as he was called up from Sherbrooke on an emergency basis . . . Played one more game before returning back to junior for the remainder of the season . . . Attended Canucks training camp in 1983, but decided to play for the Canadian Olympic Team . . . After only 19 games with Team Canada, he was brought back to the Canucks to play the rest of the season . . . Scored his initial NHL goal on Dec. 18, 1983 in Buffalo . . . Played his first full season with Vancouver in 1984-85, scoring 31 points, which was second among Canucks' defensemen and accumulating 127 penalty minutes which was third most on Vancouver . . . Split the next season between Vancouver and Fredericton of the American Hockey League, playing in 32 games with the Canucks and 25 with the Express . . . In his second full season in Vancouver, 1986-87, he tied with Doug Lidster for most goals by a Canuck defensemen with 12 and was second among backliners in assists (25) and shots on goal (116) . . . 11 of his 24 goals at Vancouver came on the power play.

TEAM CANADA: Joined the Canadian National Team in September of 1983 as they prepared for the 1984 Olympic games at Sarajevo . . . Notched three goals and 10 assists in 19 games, but the Canucks suffered some injuries and he was summoned back to Vancouver.

JUNIOR CAREER: Scored 55 points in 48 games as a 16-year-old with the St. Foy Midget AAA team in 1980-81 . . . The next season, he played with the Sherbrooke Beavers of the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League where he was the winner of the Raymond Lagace Trophy as the league's top rookie defensemen . . . Also won the Association of Journalist of Hockey Trophy as the top prospect of the QMJHL that year and was named a first team All-Star . . . The following campaign he moved to the St. Jean Beavers of the same league and was again tabbed a first-team All-Star.

BACKGROUND: Possesses a hard, accurate slapshot that he keeps low . . . Friendly, he has an off-beat sense of humor . . . Wore uniform number 17 in his first game with the Rangers, before switching to number 24, the same number he wore in Vancouver . . . Teammate of James Patrick with the Canadian National Team . . . His father has a level four coaching certification . . . Enjoys golf, tennis and softball . . . Returned to Vancouver with his wife, Kandis, for the summer.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: June 9, 1982—Vancouver's first round choice (11th overall) in 1982 Entry Draft. Nov. 4, 1987—Traded by Vancouver to Rangers for Willie Huber and Larry Melnyk.

Sidelined from Feb. 27 thru March 13 with a strained lower back while with the Nighthawks.

NHL CAREER: Has been in the Rangers' system since signing as a free agent out of Michigan State in 1983 but the combination of New York's strength in goal and his own problem with groin injuries have limited his NHL experience to 16 games . . . Made his Ranger debut on Feb. 2, 1984 at Calgary taking over for Glen Hanlon in the third period . . . Won his first NHL game two days later at Vancouver making 20 saves in New York's 5-4 victory . . . Contributed 35 saves the following night in a 3-3 tie in Los Angeles and on Feb. 8 in Winnipeg he recorded his second NHL victory stopping 27 of 28 shots in 3-1 win over the Jets . . . Finished his first NHL sojourn with a 2-3-3 record and a 3.59 average . . . Appeared in four games with the Rangers in 1985-86 (three starts) and his only NHL contest in '86-87 was a 5-5 tie in Chicago on Oct. 15.

CHL AND AHL CAREER: First season as a professional was 1983-84 playing with the Tulsa Oilers, the champions of the old Central Hockey League . . . Posted a 13-13-3 slate in 29 games and was named along with John Vanbiesbrouck a recipient of the Terry Sawchuck Trophy given to the goalies with the combined lowest goals-against average . . . Won two of the four games that the Oilers swept to win the CHL title over Indianapolis . . . Spent most of the next three years playing with New Haven of the AHL appearing in a total of 94 games.

COLLEGE CAREER: Played three seasons at Michigan State and was selected as their Most Valuable Player every year there . . . Received Outstanding Rookie Award as voted by his coaches and was chosen an All-American by the American Hockey Coaches Association as a junior and senior as well as a Central Collegiate Hockey Association All-Star those years . . . Posted a record of 29-9-1 with a 2.64 average in his final season ('82-83) as the Spartans won the CCHA Championship over Bowling Green.

BACKGROUND: Quiet, unassuming, with a low-key personality . . . Very popular with his teammates . . . Plays angles well and remains cool under pressure . . . Very competitive, with an intense desire to win . . . Sported a 3.7 grade average while at Michigan State, majoring in accounting . . . Was selected an Academic All-American his three undergraduate years . . . Favorite all-time player is ex-goalie Rogie Vachon . . . Married, wife, Bonnie; daughter, Brittany.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: May 25, 1983— Signed as a free agent by Rangers.

1987-88: Obtained from Quebec eight days before the start of the campaign and emerged as an excellent two-way defenseman setting career highs in assists (25) and points (32) and matching his career best in goals (7) . . . Tallied one goal and four assists in his first five outings in a Ranger uniform before suffering a separated left shoulder in his sixth contest on Oct. 19 against Washington . . . Missed the next 11 matches before returning on Nov. 14 . . . Credited with two of the Rangers' three goals (both on power play) in 3-1 victory over the Islanders on Nov. 29 . . . Registered five two-point games, all in the first half of the season . . . 22 of his 32 points were notched on the power play including five of his seven goals . . . Five of his seven goals were produced against Patrick Division teams and five of the seven came on home ice . . . Recorded career high eight shots on goal on March 26 at Detroit and his seasons total of 141 was second best among Ranger backliners . . . New York had a mark of 34-25-9 in games he appeared in.

NHL CAREER: Quebec's first selection (13th overall) in the 1982 Entry Draft, he made his NHL debut the following January appearing in two games at the tender age of 18 . . . Called up on emergency recall the next year when Randy Moller was injured, he played in three contests . . . In 1984-85, he split time between the Nordiques and their American Hockey League affiliate in Fredericton . . . Spent the entire '85-86 season with Quebec scoring his first NHL goal on Oct. 13 against Brian Hayward of Winnipeg . . . His plus 14 rating led all Quebec players and his seven goals was second best among the team's defensemen . . . Power play goal on Jan. 5 against the Rangers proved to be the game-winner in 5-4 victory over New York . . . In 1986-87, his second full season in the NHL, he was diagnosed as having mononucleosis late in the season, but amazingly still managed to play in 75 games with no goals and 19 assists . . . Doctors found out he had mono toward the end of the year, but said he could have had it from as early as January on . . . Only professional experience outside the NHL was 48 games with Fredericton of the AHL in 1984-85.

JUNIOR CAREER: Played three seasons with the Kitchener Rangers of the OHL who won the Memorial Cup in 1982 and reached the finals in 1984 . . . Best offensive season was '82-83 when he produced 18 goals and 56 assists for 74 points while playing most of the season alongside Al MacInnis . . . The duo combined for a total of 158 points with MacInnis finishing second among the league's defensemen and Shaw ranking fourth . . . Proceeded to have a fantastic season in '83-84, as he was selected a first team OHL All-Star collecting 14 goals and 34 assists for 48 points in 58 games . . . Cumulative three-year junior totals were 38 goals, 115 assists, and 153 points in 183 contests.

BACKGROUND: Has exceptional poise for a player with only three full NHL seasons under his belt . . . Good positional player whose heavy slap shot from the point makes him someone to fear on the power play . . . Wore uniform number four while with the Nordiques . . . Quiet and soft spoken off the ice . . . Enjoys golf, softball, and fishing during the off-season . . . Owns a golden retriever named "Norton," named after his favorite character on the Honeymooners TV show . . . Married: wife, Trish.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: June 9, 1982—Quebec's first round choice (13th overall) in 1982 Entry Draft. Sept. 30, 1987—Traded by Quebec to Rangers with John Ogrodnick for Terry Carkner and Jeff Jackson.

GOALTENDER – 34

JOHN VANBIESBROUCK

5-8 179 Shoots Left
Born: Sept. 4, 1963 Detroit, Michigan
Off-Season Home: Rye, New York

1987-88: Missed the first five games of the season due to a slight fracture of the jaw suffered in training camp, making his first appearance of the campaign on Oct. 19 . . . Led Ranger goaltenders in games played (56), victories (27), goals-against average (3.38), and save percentage (.890) for the third straight season . . . His 27 wins ranked him fourth among all NHL netminders . . . Had a career high seven-game unbeaten streak from Dec. 26 thru Jan. 6, posting a mark of 6-0-1 over that span . . . Made nine consecutive starts from Jan. 22-Feb. 14 (5-2-2 during this stretch) and was the goalie in 16 of New York's final 19 outings (11-4-1 over this period) . . . Feb. 29th appearance against St. Louis was his 200th game as a Ranger . . . Finished 17-9-4 at home with a 3.00 average, 10-13-3 on the road with a 3.82 average, and was 12-10-4 against Patrick Division opponents with a 3.42 average . . . 12 of his 22 defeats were by the margin of only one goal . . . Recorded five assists, matching his own club record set in 1984-85.

NHL CAREER: Made his Ranger debut on Dec. 5, 1981 at Colorado, a 2-1 victory over the Rockies, turning away 30 shots . . . At the time, he was just 18 years-old and still with Sault Ste. Marie of the OHL . . . Spent next three seasons in junior hockey before being promoted to Rangers for three contests at the tailend of the 1983-84 campaign . . . First full season with New York, 1984-85, saw him post a 12-24-3 record with a 4.22 average, with eight of the wins earned against Patrick Division opponents . . . Established himself as one of the premier goaltenders in the NHL in 1985-86 highlighted by his selection to the NHL first All-Star team and being presented with the Vezina Trophy as the top goalie in the league . . . His 31 wins tied him with Bob Froese of the Flyers for the NHL lead and his 3.32 average was fifth best among the league's goaltenders . . . Equally spectacular in the playoffs starting all 16 games and posting a 3.27 average, including a 2-0 shutout over Montreal in the fourth game of the semi-final series . . . Appeared in 50 matches in '86-87 recording a record of 18-20-5 with a goals-against average of 3.64 . . . Faced at least 40 shots on six different occasions and registered a pair of three-game winning streaks.

CHL CAREER: Following his junior career, he joined the Rangers' Central Hockey League affiliate, the Tulsa Oilers, and helped lead them to the league championship in 1983-84 while being selected as the league's co-MVP . . . Was 20-13-2 during the regular season, with the league's second best average (3.46) and was 4-0 in the playoffs with a league leading 2.50 mark . . . Earned three of the seven shutouts that were posted the whole season in the league.

JUNIOR CAREER: Was bypassed as a 16 year-old by every team in the OHL midget draft and signed with Sault Ste. Marie as a free agent and eventually become an OHL All-Star . . . In 1980-81 he won the Dinty Moore Trophy awarded to the rookie goalie with the lowest average . . . In three seasons with the Greyhounds, he had a cumulative mark of 82-49-4.

BACKGROUND: Thoughtful, outgoing and funny . . . Is one of the team's most in-demand speakers . . . Wears glasses off the ice, he wore them under his mask for his first year in junior hockey . . . Suffered severe cuts to his left wrist in a household accident this past June and underwent microsurgery to repair a laceration to his ulnar nerve . . . Played golf for the Newington Childrens Hospital and Juvenile Diabetes Foundation . . . Always willing to help in charitable endeavors . . . Was the keynote speaker at Con Edison's 37th Annual Sports Awards dinner on June 1 . . . Has played with the MSG softball team . . . Married: wife, Rosalinde; son Ian was born in June.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: June 10, 1981— Rangers fifth choice (fourth round–72nd overall) in 1981 Entry Draft.

Rangers 1988 Entry Draft Selections

Name-Round/Overall-Position/Shoots-Ht.-Wt.-Birthdate-Birthplace

TROY MALLETTE 2/22 C/L 6-2 190 2/25/70 Sudbury, Ont.
. . . Although he played left wing for the Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds last season, the Rangers look at him as a centerman, a position he had always played until last year . . . He is described as an excellent skater who has good balance, agility and acceleration . . . Plays on the power play and penalty killing units for the Greyhounds . . . Possesses a good, accurate shot with a quick release . . . Is also an excellent passer, he sees the ice well and uses both of his linemates . . . In 1986-87 he was named the Greyhounds Rookie of the Year.

MURRAY DUVAL 2/26 D/LW/L 6-1 195 1/22/70 Thompson, Man.
Very versatile player, he moved from his natural left wing position to defense last season when two of Spokane's defensemen went down with injuries . . . Coached at Spokane by Butch Goring and was described by Goring as the Chiefs smartest player . . . When he was switched to defense he excelled both offensively and defensively . . . He is described as a very heady player, who has a good attitude and is an excellent team player . . . Has good slapshot that he gets away quickly and a very hard wrist shot, both helping him score 26 goals last season . . . Moves the puck very well, he makes both soft and hard passes . . . Has excellent size and strength, he is hard to knock off the puck.

TONY AMONTE 4/68 RW/L 6-0 165 8/2/70 Weymouth, MA
He is a grinding type of player with a high skill level . . . A tenacious player, he has great hands and a good scoring touch . . . A leader, who is an excellent team player . . . Played the last three seasons at Thayer Academy in Braintree, Massachusetts . . . Named on the all-league team last season . . . Youngest player selected in the entire draft . . . Was rated by the Rangers as a first round pick . . . Good skater, he is also a good stick-handler and an excellent passer . . . Has a good, quick shot and he is very good around the net.

MARTIN BERGERON 5/99 C/L 6-0 180 1/20/68 Verdun, Quebec
Led the Drummondville Voltigeurs in assists last season with 64, was second in points with 109 and third in goals with 45 . . . He is a good skater who can stickhandle, but, the best part of his game is passing . . . He is described as an excellent passer, who can pass both sides . . . Leads man well and moves the puck quickly . . . Plays on the power play and kills penalties . . . Plays a finesse style, he can score several ways . . . Very smart around the net.

DENNIS VIAL 6/110 D/L 6-1 190 4/10/69 Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.
A stay at home defenseman, he is very tough around the net . . . Led the Hamilton Steelhawks in penalty minutes with 229 . . . Excels at getting the puck out of the zone . . . Has a strong slap and wrist shot . . . He is described as having a great attitude and desire . . . A solid team player who is an excellent competitor . . . Very physical, he is tough along the boards . . . A good passer, he moves the puck fast and accurately.

MIKE ROSATI 7/131 G/L 5-10 170 1/7/68 Toronto, Ontario
Played at Hamilton of the Ontario Hockey League . . . Appeared in 62 of the Steelhawks 66 games and registered a record of 29-25-3 with a 4.03 goals-against average . . . Plays a stand up style, only going down when necessary . . . Handles the puck well and has good shot blocking ability . . . Reacts quickly to situations, he is usually quick to cover up pucks within reach . . . Was the Steelhawks Rookie of the Year in 1986-87.

ERIC COUVRETTE 8/152 LW/L 6-0 185 3/11/69 Pointe-Claire, Que.
Began the season with the Victoriaville Tigers before he was traded to the St. Jean Castors . . . Went on to lead the Castors in scoring with 34 goals and 60 assists for 94 points in 55 games . . . Is an excellent skater and he has a good stride . . . Has good acceleration and quickness . . . Very clever around the net, he has a quick wrist shot . . . A good playmaker, he sees the ice well.

PATRICK FORREST 9/173 D/L 6-2 200 4/25/68 Blaine, MN
"Shorty" is a stay at home defenseman with excellent size . . . Played at St. Cloud State last season . . . Very physical in front of the net . . . A good passer, he leads the man well.

KEITH SLIFSTIEN 12/236 RW/R 6-0 190 1/2/69 Hyde Park, NY
"He is a very big player who we hope will improve," says scout Richard Rose. After two years at Choate High School in Connecticut, he will enroll at Northeastern University where he will start in the fall.

The Thrill of Victory

Like all sports, hockey has its share of ups and downs, and the former is far better than the latter, as these photos will attest. In hockey, "the thrill of victory," whether it be a goal scored or a victory celebrated, is almost universally saluted by throwing one's arms in the air. Clockwise from left, five Rangers show their stuff: John Vanbiesbrouck, Don Maloney, Paul Cyr, Tomas Sandstrom, and Marcel Dionne. (Photos by Bruce Bennett)

HOCKEY POINTS OF INTEREST

ENTRY DRAFT . . . The 1989 Entry Draft will be held in mid-June in Minnesota. To be eligible, a player must be at least 18 years old by September 15 of that draft year, and not older than 20 by September 15 of that draft year. Starting in 1987, 18-year-old players were allowed to be selected only in the first three rounds of the draft. A drafted player must be made a bonafide offer by the next draft, or he may be eligible to be drafted again. There is no maximum age for players in Europe who must be drafted before they can sign.

SUPPLEMENTAL DRAFT . . . The 1989 Supplemental Draft will be held prior to the Entry Draft. To be eligible, a player must be 21 or older; never have been claimed in an Entry Draft; never have played professionally; and must have played for at least one season in college in North America when he was age 18, 19 or 20. Free Agents eligible for the Supplemental Draft shall be ineligible to play in the NHL unless they were claimed in the Supplemental Draft and signed to an NHL contract prior to the start of the next NHL regular season.

FREE AGENT ELIGIBILITY (without compensation) . . . A player must be 24 years of age or have played pro for five years. If the player is going into the option year of his contract, and has been tendered a termination contract from his team by June 1st, he would play out his option year and become a free agent without compensation by the following June 30th. He may decline to play out his option year with that team, within 10 days of receiving his termination contract, and become a free agent without compensation.

FREE AGENT ELIGIBILITY (with compensation) . . . Beginning in 1987, a player, who meets the above requirements and is playing out his option year, receives a contract offer from his club of at least $110,000 by June 30 and declines that offer, becomes a free agent with compensation.

If another club signs him, that team must compensate his former club with draft picks, cash, or both, depending on the size of the contract. If the contract is for between . . .
$110,000–$135,000 . . . third round draft pick
$135,000–$160,000 . . . second and third round picks
$160,000–$210,000 . . . first round pick
$210,000–$260,000 . . . first and second round picks
$260,000–$400,000 . . . two first round picks (one in top 11 overall) and $100,000
Over $400,000 . . . two first round picks (one in top seven overall) and $100,000

PLUS-MINUS . . . A player receives a "plus" if he is on the ice for an even-strength or shorthanded goal by his team. He recieves a "minus" when on the ice for an even-strength, or shorthanded goal scored by the opposing team. The plus-minus is determined by totaling all the pluses and all the minuses.

ROOKIE QUALIFICATIONS . . . To be considered a rookie, a player must not have played in 25 or more NHL games in any preceding season, nor in six or more NHL games in each of any two preceding seasons.

SAVE PERCENTAGE . . . To determine, subtract goals-against (GA) from shots-against (SA) to find saves made. Then divide saves by shots-against (SA).

TIE-BREAKER PROCEDURE . . . When a tie in points occurs in the standings, the following steps determine the higher positions: 1) most wins; 2) most points earned in games between tied teams; 3) best difference between goals for and goals against over the entire 80-game championship season; 4) special emergency G.M. meeting or conference call.

TRADING DEADLINE . . . The 26th day preceding the final day of the NHL regular season is the deadline for trades, as well as loans to and recalls from minor league clubs.

WAIVER DRAFT . . . Held on the final Monday or Tuesday before the start of the regular season. NHL clubs are allowed to protect 16 players and two goaltenders from this draft. Players on that team's reserve list, under contract, who have completed at least two years pro, must be protected or are eligible to be drafted. Goalies on the club's reserve list and under contract, who have completed three pro seasons, must be protected or they can be drafted. If a player is picked from a team, that team can protect another player. A team can not lose more than three players or one goaltender.

OFF THE ICE

THE RANGERS FIGHT CHILD ABUSE

For the past seven seasons, the New York Rangers' charity of choice has been the Child Abuse Prevention campaign. The team has adopted this worthy cause, and conducted various events to raise money for it. Pictured on these two pages are many members of the Rangers family, all of whom have one goal in mind: the prevention of child abuse.

Rangers general manager Phil Esposito (above) and Sam Rosen, the team's play-by-play man on television, give freely of their time, and typically will serve as masters of ceremonies at the various events, such as the Exchange Club of Westchester's annual salute to the Rangers, which takes place each Fall.

Twice last season, the Rangers participated in so-called "Tip-A-Ranger" nights at restaurants in the Metropolitan Area. The affairs were held at Dewey Wong's in Manhattan and Steve's Wortendyke Inn in Midland Park, NJ. Above, Rangers Ron Greschner (left) and Jan Erixon act as waiters and take customers' food orders. Below, Ulf Dahlen (left) and Joe Paterson do the same. All the tip money earned by the Rangers went toward the prevention of child abuse.

In addition to earning money via gratuities left by diners, the Rangers also auction off various items of club materials to the highest bidders for each. Above, Lucien DeBlois autographs a stick which he just auctioned to a fan. At the right, Tomas Sandstrom is hardly a goalie, but that doesn't stop the big right winger from selling a goalie's stick. Below, goalie John Vanbiesbrouck (left) chats with former goalie turned broadcaster John Davidson and Doug Moss (right), vice-president of advertising sales for Madison Square Garden Network, at one of the fund-raising affairs. (Photos by Nancy Cataldi)

RANGERS ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Now in its seventh season—and with a motto of "Keeping in Touch with Tradition"—the Rangers Alumni Association has become an increasingly more visible organization. Throughout each season, members of the Rangers Alumni Association play in charity softball and hockey games; they conduct a golf and tennis tournament each summer; and are generally very active in community affairs. Over the past seven years, the Rangers Alumni Association has raised more than $75,000 for various charities. Last winter, Rod Gilbert, the Rangers all-time leading scorer and an active member of the Alumni Association, became the very first Ranger ever to receive the prestigious Hockey Achievement Award of the Canadian Society of New York. Above, Gilbert's former linemate Vic Hadfield (left) and former NHL star Dennis Hull (right) congratulate Rod at the dinner held in his honor at the Waldorf-Astoria. Below, former Rangers Steve Vickers, Brad Park, and Peter Stemkowski (left to right) get together at the same dinner.

RANGERS FAN CLUB

Now in its 40th season—and with more than 600 members—the Rangers Fan Club is one of the most active clubs of its kind in the entire National Hockey League. In addition to their own activities (monthly meetings, a regularly-published newsletter and season-ending awards), the RFC regularly assists the Rangers organization with various charitable activities. Rangers Ron Scott and Mark Tinordi (photo left) helped Fan Club members with the Toys For Tots campaign last season, and Fan Club president Debbie Rockower (bottom) was honored before a home game with a plaque for the Athletes Against Hunger program. Making the presentation was Rangers captain Kelly Kisio and Jerry Goldman of the Athletes Against Hunger organization.

Members of the Rangers, usually three at a time, attend the Fan Club's monthly meetings, which are held in midtown Manhattan. Below, Bob Froese hams it up with a youngster at one of the meetings.

SOME FAMILIAR FACES INDEED

Several of the Rangers got to meet the two most recognizable faces on the New York political scene last season. Marcel Dionne (upper right) helped Mayor Ed Koch at City Hall to promote the New York City Summer Games, an Olympic-style event for youngsters from all five boroughs.

Brian Mullen (center) assisted Governor Mario Cuomo at a World Trade Center press conference designed to promote and strengthen racial harmony among New Yorkers.

At another City Hall press conference (below), Mayor Koch offered thanks to Rangers James Patrick (right) and Lucien DeBlois (center) for their help in launching Independent Living Week in New York. Also on hand was wrestling personality Hillbilly Jim.

THE RANGERS ON THE GO . . . FROM MARCH OF DIMES . . . TO DRUG ABUSE

Youngsters—and youth-related causes—are a very large part of the Rangers and their charitable activities. Goalie Bob Froese (left) journeyed last season to Intermediate School 2 on Staten Island and spoke to the youngsters about the dangers of drug abuse and what a drug-free life can offer.

Don Maloney (below left) was honored as "New York Ranger of the Year" by the March of Dimes in recognition of his ongoing charitable activities. John Ogrodnick (bottom) went to St. Luke's-Roosevelt Hospital last summer to assist in the awards presentation of a special contest held at the hospital. The contest winner was 10 year-old Jean-Felix Etienne. Looking was Herbert Rothchild of the Rothchild Printing Company, which sponsored the contest.

. . . UN-MASKED

One of the Rangers' most active and visible personalities in the community is goalie John Vanbiesbrouck, who, like his teammates, gives readily of his time and efforts on a regular basis.

Below, Ron Greschner and wife Carol Alt got together with heavyweight champion Mike Tyson and a group of local youngsters at a benefit for the Big Brothers Association.

RANGERS vs. WHALERS
. . . AND IT'S FOR CHARITY

The Rangers and the Hartford Whalers took to the softball field last summer in Bristol, Connecticut, and the proceeds went to three deserving charitable causes—the ongoing Child Abuse Prevention campaign; the University of Connecticut Childrens Center; and the effort to aid Steven McDonald, the tragically-paralyzed New York City police officer.

PETER MAHOVLICH

General Manager and Coach

Peter Mahovlich has enjoyed a long and illustrious career in professional ice hockey. Since breaking in with the Detroit Red Wings during the 1965-66 season, his career has been marked by success after success.

His most recent success was last season's first place finish of the Colorado Rangers. Mahovlich guided the expansion club to a record of 44 wins, 35 losses and three overtime losses as Colorado edged Salt Lake by three points to finish in first place in the International Hockey League's West Division.

After playing parts of four seasons in Detroit, Mahovlich moved on to Montreal, where he enjoyed his finest years with the Canadiens and was a member of four Stanley Cup Champions. During his years in Montreal, he had his best statistical season, recording 35 goals and 87 assists for 117 points in 1974-75. He completed his second straight 100 point season the following year. He later played in Pittsburgh and finished his NHL playing career back in Detroit with the Red Wings in 1980-81. His NHL totals read 288 goals and 485 assists for 773 points in 884 games.

Upon completion of his NHL career, Mahovlich became a broadcaster for Madison Square Garden Network, providing color commentary on the New Jersey Devils' telecasts during the 1984-85 season.

Prior to the 1985-86 season, he was appointed head coach of the Toledo Goaldiggers of the International Hockey League. During the course of that season, a depleted roster forced Mahovlich to return to active duty, and in 23 games he registered four goals and 10 assists for 14 points. His injury-riddled club finished the season with a 24-58-0 record.

Mahovlich joined the New York Rangers before the 1986-87 season as their AHL/IHL scout. Peter, 42, has three children—Peter, Jr., Jeffrey, and Margaret Ann. Married: wife, Elise LaPorta.

DOUG SOETAERT

Assistant G.M. and Coach

When the New York Rangers named Phil Esposito vice president and general manager on July 14, 1986 he said that he would make the Rangers a winning organization. His first move toward that goal was only 10 days later, on July 24, when he signed free agent goaltender Doug Soetaert.

Then, after a year with the Rangers, Soetaert hung up his skates to become assistant general manager and coach of the Colorado Rangers, helping Pete Mahovlich run the new franchise.

Soetaert started the 1986-87 season by sharing time with the 1985-86 Vezina Trophy winning goaltender John Vanbiesbrouck. In December, goalie Bob Froese was acquired from the Philadelphia Flyers and the Rangers finished the season with three goaltenders. When Doug was not playing, he helped out the scouting staff by scouting an upcoming opponent or looking at some of the younger players in the system.

A native of Edmonton, Alberta, Doug was originally drafted by New York in the second round (30th overall) in the 1975 Amateur Draft. He went on to play in parts of six seasons with the Rangers before being traded to the Winnipeg Jets for a third round draft choice in the 1983 draft on September 8, 1981.

After three seasons with Winnipeg, the Jets traded Doug to the Montreal Canadiens on October 9, 1984 in exchange for Mark Holden.

Soetaert, 33 years old, played two seasons with the Montreal Canadiens, one of which was his best year as a professional. In 1985-86 Doug had an outstanding 11-6-2 record with a 2.77 average and three shutouts, while the Canadiens went on to win the Stanley Cup Championship.

A veteran of 12 seasons, Doug appeared in 284 NHL games, with a lifetime record of 110-103-44 and a 3.97 average. In seven seasons with New York, Doug posted a record of 35-40-15 with a 4.27 average, while appearing in 103 games.

Doug and his wife Nancy have three children, a daughter, Cheryl and two sons, Dennis and Brian.

SOETAERT, DOUGLAS HENRY (DOUG)

Born, Edmonton, Alberta, April 21, 1955

A CAPSULE HISTORY OF MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

Madison Square Garden is well into its second century as the world's most famous sports and entertainment center.

The Garden, now at its third site and fourth building since first being named in 1879, is a multi-facility complex which includes the 20,000-seat Arena, 4,500-seat Felt Forum, spacious Exposition Rotunda and modern Bowling Center. Close to five million people annually visit the Garden to enjoy close to 600 games/shows/events.

The fourth and present Garden opened in 1968, at its Pennsylvania Plaza site, bounded by Seventh and Eighth Avenues and 31st and 33rd Streets and standing above Pennsylvania Station. The home of the New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association and New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, the Garden is also known throughout the world as the site for such diverse sports as boxing, tennis, track and field, gymnastics, wrestling, horse and dog shows, college basketball and hockey, martial arts, soccer, rodeo and bowling and for a variety of entertainment and other events including circus, ice shows, concerts, stage musicals, international dance and performing companies, conventions, graduations and meetings, trade shows and exhibitions.

The first Garden was located at Madison Square, 26th Street and Madison Avenue. The building, which had 28-foot walls without a roof, was officially named Madison Square Garden May 31, 1879, after being preceded at the site by P.T. Barnum's "Monster Classical and Geological Hippodrome" and "Gilmore's Gardens," named for noted band impresario Patrick S. Gilmore.

When problems with the first Garden became too much to overcome, a corporation was organized to construct a new building. Demolition of the old structure began in 1889 and a new, roofed Garden with a 320-foot tower designed by famed New York architect Stanford White was opened June 16, 1890 with a concert by Viennese conductor Eduard Strauss and his orchestra.

Thirty-four years later, Garden II came to the end of its glory when the New York Life Insurance Company, which held a mortgage on the land, decided to demolish the building in 1924. George (Tex) Rickard, a well-known boxing promoter, organized a group to undertake the construction of another Garden at a different site.

Trolley car barns were torn down on a site between 49th and 50th Streets on Eighth Avenue for the third Garden. The building was constructed in 249 days and opened unofficially November 28, 1925 with the six-day bike races. The official opening event, on December 15, was a professional hockey game with the Montreal Canadiens defeating the New York Americans, 3-1. Under the leadership of Rickard and, later, General John Reed Kilpatrick, Ned Irish and Irving Mitchell Felt, the Garden steadily increased in stature.

In 1960, plans were announced for the new Madison Square Garden Center. The site above Pennsylvania Station was chosen for the Garden's new home and the demolition of the old above-ground railroad building began in 1965.

Garden IV opened February 11, 1968 with a superstar-studded "Salute to the USO" concert. The new sports and entertainment showplace is still recognized as a magnificent complex representing a major achievement in modern construction with a circular, cable-suspended roof above the arena facility and an adjacent 290-story office building.

Madison Sqaure Garden, which became a subsidiary of Gulf+Western Inc. in 1977 and is currently part of its Entertainment Group, celebrated its Centennial anniversary on May 31, 1979. Among the many event highlights at the present Garden have been the 1976 and 1980 Democratic National Conventions; the special Youth in Concert visit by Pope John Paull II in 1979; the Knicks winning their first-ever NBA championship with a memorable seventh-game victory over the Los Angeles Lakers in 1970; the dramatic 1979 NHL Stanley Cup playoff semifinal series won by the Rangers over the rival New York Islanders; the 1971 heavyweight "Fight of the Century" between Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier; and soldout concerts by the Rolling Stones, Elton John, Elvis Presley, Frank Sinatra, Luciano Pavarotti, Celia Cruz, Billy Joel, Michael Jackson, Bruce Springsteen and many other contemporary music stars.

In addition, favorite annual Garden attractions include the Virginia Slims Championships women's tennis tournament, National Horse Show, "Sesame Street Live," Nabisco Masters men's tennis championship, Ice Capades, Harlem Globetrotters, "Muppet Babies Live," Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show, NCAA college basketball, Big East Conference Championship and Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

With Richard H. Evans currently serving as president and chief executive officer, Madison Square Garden Corporation has four operating groups: MSG Communications (Madison Square Garden Network, Madison Square Garden Boxing), MSG Entertainment (Madison Square Garden Enterprises, Madison Square Garden Television), MSG Facilities Development and Management (Madison Square Garden Center) and MSG Sports (New York Rangers Hockey Club, New York Knickerbockers Basketball Club).

Madison Square Garden remains a proud, active citizen and colorful landmark of New York City, committed to continuing the rich, exciting tradition which has inspired press and performing people to proclaim the Garden as "the center of the universe," "the world's most versatile stage," "a palace of pleasure" and "not just a building but a state of mind." Perhaps the late Pulitzer Prize-winning sports journalist Red Smith best summed it up when he wrote, "Madison Square Garden is, very simply, the most famous and glamorous arena in creation."

A Brief History of The New York Rangers

The Rangers' Official Emblem

One of the proudest and most historic franchises in the National Hockey League. That's the New York Rangers, who are embarking on their 63rd season of National Hockey League play in 1988-89.

In the last few seasons, the Rangers have been able to recapture much of the glamour and glitter that marked their early years, a trend which clearly will continue this season.

Back in the 1920s and 1930s, the Rangers were known as "the classiest team in hockey," and the description was certainly an accurate one. In fact, few sporting teams have come into existence with such a wave of success.

Under the astute managership and coaching of Lester Patrick, hockey's famed "Silver Fox," the Rangers were nearly unbeatable in those early years.

Actually, the birth of the Rangers was something of a team effort that involved Patrick, Madison Square Garden fight promoter Tex Rickard and Conn Smythe, then a successful hockey man in Toronto.

Rickard had become fascinated with hockey, and was convinced the game would be enthusiastically supported in the Garden, the world's premier sports arena that had opened its doors just a year earlier.

The team was jocularly called "Tex's Rangers," and the latter part of the name stuck.

Soon after the puck got rolling in New York, Smythe resigned and was quickly replaced by Patrick, the widely known hockey promoter and innovator who came to New York from the defunct Pacific Coast Hockey Association.

Patrick worked his magic from the very start. The Rangers were an instant smash, both on the ice and at the box office, as New Yorkers immediately took to hockey. Ranger games were the place to be in those days, and the club attracted a formal, "dinner-jacket" crowd to the games, which began at 8:45 P.M. The fans were headed by no less a personage than the Mayor of New York himself, the Honorable Jimmy Walker.

In their first 16 seasons, the Rangers missed the playoffs only once, and only twice did they fall lower than third place. New York won three regular-season championships in that span, finished second five times and third on six other occasions. They also won three Stanley Cups.

In short, the Rangers built an empire, and New Yorkers loved every minute of it.

The Original Rangers were led by the Cook brothers, Bill and Bun, and Frank Boucher, who won the Lady Byng Trophy so many times the league finally gave it to him permanently. Among the "originals," Bill Cook, Boucher, and colorful defenseman Ching Johnson all made it to the Hockey Hall of Fame.

As the "originals" started to fade out, they were replaced by another stellar group of Ranger stars. Boucher was now coaching the club, while Lester Patrick concentrated on the managerial chores.

Once again, New Yorkers had a brother combination to cheer for. This time it was Neil and Mac Colville, and Alex Shibicky was their linemate. High-scoring Bryan Hextall, fiery Phil Watson, the Patrick brothers, Lynn and Muzz, goalie Dave Kerr, and defensemen Babe Pratt and Art Coulter were all stalwarts of that era.

World War II broke up the gang of Ranger All-Stars, but despite the fall in the team's fortunes after the war, there were still many individual stars on Broadway. Chuck Rayner, Buddy O'Connor, Edgar Laprade, Hy Buller, and Bones Raleigh were standouts in the late Forties and early Fifties.

The arrival of Andy Bathgate in New York signalled another era in Ranger history. Bathgate, twice a first team All-Star, and then the holder of most Ranger scoring records, was the Rangers' superstar for almost a decade. Little Camille Henry, goalie Gump Worsley, Harry Howell, and Dean Prentice were other fans' favorites.

Some 10 years later, another star right wing heralded the Rangers' newest era. Rod Gilbert eventually eclipsed all of Bathgate's scoring records with the club, and played a decade and a half of stellar hockey in New York.

Other stars of that era included Gilbert's linemates, Jean Ratelle and Vic Hadfield, goalie Ed Giacomin, defenseman Brad Park, and center Walt Tkaczuk.

New stars like Anders Hedberg, Ulf Nilsson, Barry Beck, Ron Greschner, Phil Esposito, John Davidson, and the Maloney brothers, Dave and Don, ushered the Rangers into a decade of the 1980s. The team dramatically marched to the Stanley Cup Finals in 1979, and showed real signs of returning to the days of past glory.

The arrival of Phil Esposito in 1986, as the team's eighth general manager in 61 years, heralded the Rangers' latest era, one that promises to be filled with success and excitement. Phil and coach Michel Bergeron and their respective staffs are firmly committed to just one goal: the return of the Stanley Cup to New York.

And, with new stars like John Vanbiesbrouck, Ulf Dahlen, James Patrick, Tomas Sandstrom, etc. starting to emerge, who would bet against them?
